to

We dedicate this book to the audiences who make the performances of "The Porter Story" a success. They stand behind the performers applauding and encouraging them to greater heights. On the courts, on the stage, in the classroom, or any place where the LTHS students are in the spotlight, they are there. Because of their interest we want to show our appreciation by putting our audiences in the spotlight and applauding them.

the Audiences . . .

Foreword

The dreams of a new auditorium now have been transformed into a reality. The James M. Smith Auditorium is a memorial to a man who served this community for 27 years as superintendent of LTHS.

November 7, 1958, was a memorable day for students and faculty members alike, for it was then that the whole student body assembled as a unit in the beautiful new auditorium. Because the completion of this auditorium has opened a whole new world for the dramatic and music departments, the 1959 LOCK staff chose the theme of the theatre to relate the saga of LTHS. The 1,300 students, the administration, faculty, and staff comprise the theatrical company which is now "on stage." Each group has a part in producing "The Porter Story," a play in two exciting acts. The play is about to begin, the actors are in place, the spotlight is focused, and the curtain is going up . . .

the Directors and Producers

The members of the Board of Education are: Aldo Anzzolin; Felix L. Boria; V. Park Widner; W. Melvin Blogg; Carroll H. Ward, president; John Verklan, attorney and secretary; William Babich; Ernest Swenson, Jr., vice president; and Dr. William H. Blatnik.

Producers Promote Education

Mrs. Faye Avers, school board secretary, has a full time job keeping up the records of the board's activities.

Before a stage production can be successful, it is necessary that there be reasonable assurance that individuals who possess the powers of clairvoyance, high intellect, and financial independence are available to carry out the master plan developed by the playwright. Here at LTHS, the directors are the members of the faculty, the producers are the Board of Education.

When carrying out the master plan, the faculty and the Board of Education must work together using foresight to insure a successful school year.

We, the members of the cast, are most grateful to our capable producers and directors who have guided us throughout a memorable year.

Mr. Edward Flink, our principal, works to improve the moral standards and character of the LTHS students.

As director of curriculum, Mr. Daymond Aiken counsels the students and faculty alike.

Directors Guide Students

Dr. Blatnik, able administrator, exemplifies the ultimate in amiable personality.

Honored Students Promote

Sally Davis, Pat Collofello, Carole Rediehs, Sam Adamson, and Susan Harris were elected as probationary members in their sophomore year

Scholarship, leadership, character, and service are the basis for selection of members to the National Honor Society. These honored students are chosen by the faculty. Each year the new members names are announced at a very impressive assembly

This is the second year that Lockport High has had an active chapter composed of students elected in their junior year. Leading the chapter this year were Gary James, president; Wayne Johnson, vice president; Sandy Rediehs, secretary; and Pat Boland, treasurer

Last year the chapter sponsored an emblem contest to choose an emblem for the school. This year's chapter continued the project and promoted the emblem throughout the school

Another Another

Enthusiasm, school spirit and anticipation characterized homecoming making it a huge success. Weeks before the set date of October 17, work was begun on the many floats and details were planned for the festivities of the day. The sophomore class under the leadership of Mr. Rutter, was in charge of the homecoming events. The student co-chairmen appointed committee heads and committees, the work began.

To arouse school spirit a bonfire was held at the athletic field the night before the big game. Immediately following the bonfire the cheerleaders led a snake dance around the field.

Of the twenty-two floats entered in the parade, second place was taken by the sophomore's spider and honorable mention by the band's float, the purple people eater.

Homecoming

Success

The highlight of the homecoming was the coronation of the queen and king. The senior attendant, Bernie Grikstas, was escorted by Bill O'Neil. Judy Novak represented the junior class with Jim Johnson as her escort. Elected to represent the sophomore class was Carole Rediehs. Her escort was Steve Partak. The freshman attendant, Dennie Johnson, was accompanied by Gary Moores.

The bonfire, the parade, and the dance are over and only the memories remain.

Striking a lovely pose are Queen Sandy Rediehs and King Jerry Pius, who reigned over all the homecoming festivities.

The Homecoming King and Queen and their court pause from their dancing for this regal portrait.

"I REMEMBER

The combined efforts of Mrs. Van Dusen, teacher, Marilyn Murphy, student director, and Mr. Tyler, director, made the "Our Class Play" a great success.

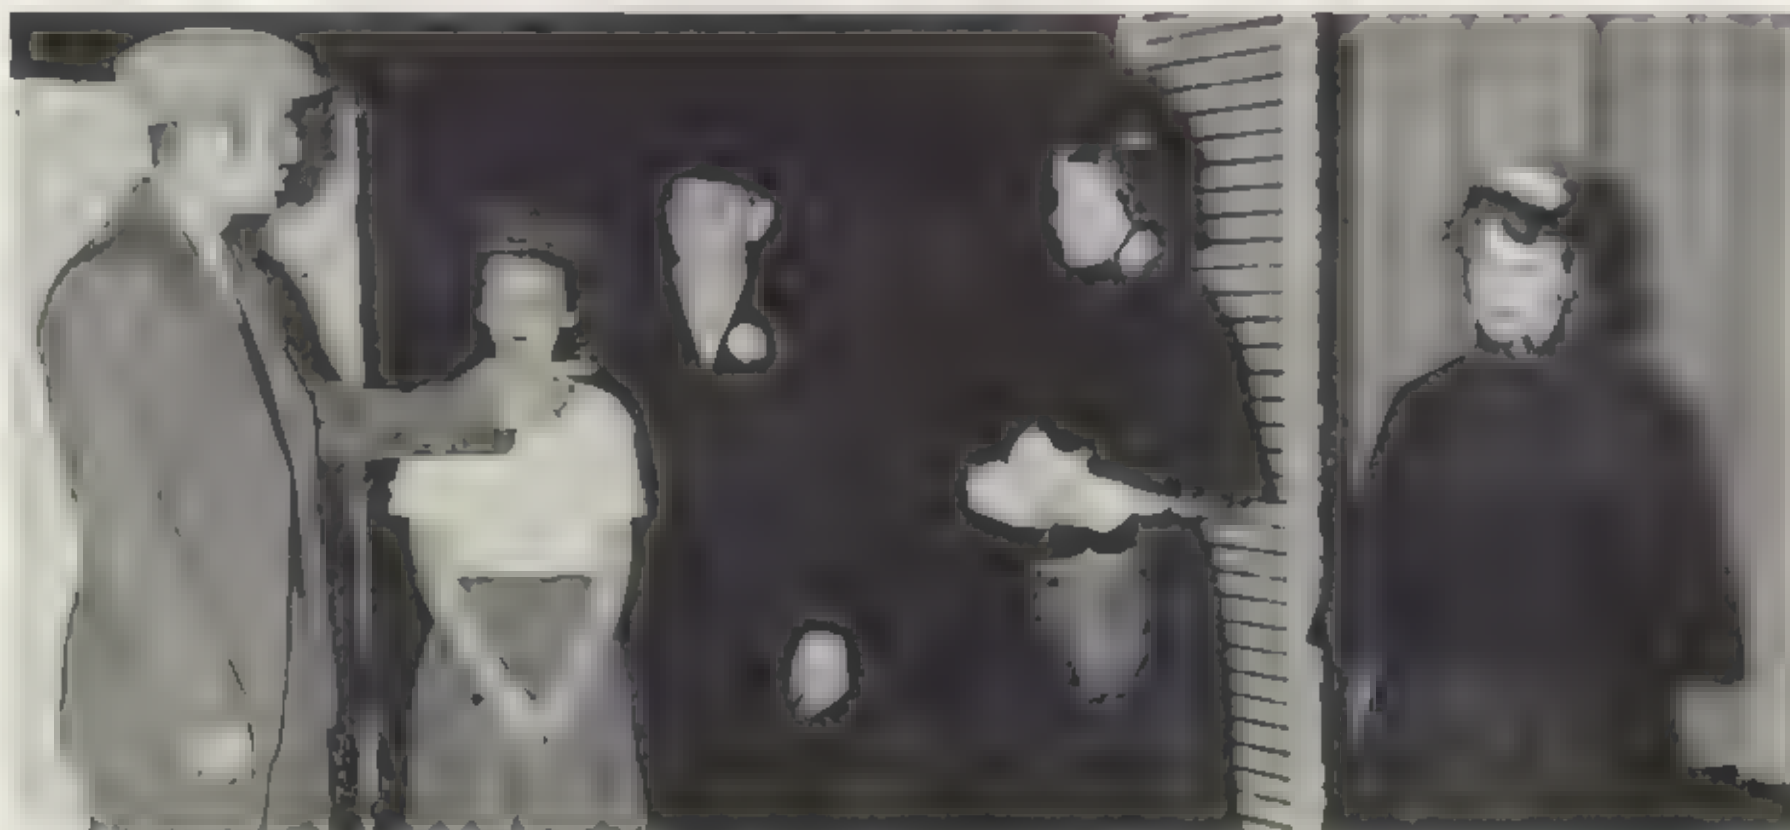

On December 20 and 21 of 1958 the junior class presented a comedy by John Van Dusen entitled "I Remember Mama". This play was directed by Kathryn F. ... Maria's Bank Account.

The play showed how Mama with the help of her husband and children was brought up her children in their ... San Francisco ... in the early 1900s. Maria is kind and ... and ... in educating them and ... as ... and ... with the ... and ... and ... with the ... and ... and ...

On March 12 and 13 the Seniors, under the capable direction of Mr. Tipler, faculty sponsor, and Carole Pauly, student director, presented "Arsenic and Old Lace," a hilarious three act play by Joseph Kesselring.

The comical Brewster family provided humorous entertainment throughout the play. Teddy Brewster, preferably Teddy Roosevelt with his aunts — Abby and Martha Brewster — put Mortimer in many difficult situations faster than he could solve them.

Cheryl Sass presents Mr. Tipler and Carole Pauly with gifts to show their appreciation for their help and guidance in directing the Senior Class Play.

"Arsenic and Old Lace,"

"Sweet Aunt Abby is overjoyed with the romantic announcement from Mortimer and Elaine."

"Don't worry Mortimer, your aunts can't hide another 'ye ow fever victim' in there."

Elaine, encouraged by the warm smile of the aunts, accepts Mortimer's proposal

"Silver Bell Symphony"

Playing under the canopy at the Christmas Dance are Diane Mason and her escort Jim Plankar.

The Christmas tree in the center of the dance floor sets the stage for the Silver Bell Symphony.

Leading into the first set of dancing is the announcement of the dance by taking about the events of the evening.

Queen Marge and King Bob lead the couples in the grand march in a royal fashion.

"Stardust"

Gene Victor's Orchestra provides the background and music for these two couples, Irene Fox and Mike Lodrick and Terry Logan and Joy Purdy

Queen Marva and King Roger dance to the theme song "Stardust" after their coronation

Marva Poston and Roger Philpott were the king and queen for the Student Council Spring Dance on March 7 1959. Along with the heavenly music of Gene Victor's Orchestra, soft billowing clouds and glimmering stars were symbolic of the "Stardust" theme

Donna Gray and Bill Peterson show enthusiasm as they concentrate on a popular dance step

These smiles from Marlen Nordstrom and Duncan Bachmann indicate that they are enjoying themselves at the Student Council Dance

There's the doorbell. I'd better hurry!

Oh, a big box! I bet it's a nosegay.

Well, what do you know, I'm in the car formal and all!

"Colonial Cotillion"

TIME: May 16, 1959

PLACE: LTHS Gymnasium

CAST: A typical couple, created by Elizabeth Alexander and Pat E. and her King and Queen

"Colonial Cotillion" was produced by special arrangement with the Class of 1960

SCENE I

She: Strolling along this path, I almost feel as though I'm in the South. It's so beautiful.

He: Same here. Why, aren't those rolling hills just beautiful? Oh, look at the little white bridge up ahead.

She: A real bridge, and we get to cross it. Such a quaint garden, isn't it? The flowers and foliage are so life-like.

He: Just feast your eyes on that marvelous mansion! Shall we go inside?

You don't mean to say this is the last dance? So soon?

Now, let me see. What do I want? Any suggestions?

The perfect ending for a perfect evening

Sets the Scene . . .

SCENE II

She: Why, it's a ballroom! The colonial figures on that lovely mural seem to reflect our mood and dress. And aren't the walls decorated nicely? Oh, and such attractive windows!

He: The bandstand's in the center; now that's different. Isn't it beautiful?

She: Oh yes! The fireplace seems to add a touch of elegance to the room

He: It's intermission already. Don Young's playing the organ and two Arthur Murray dancers will entertain.

She: Don't Liz and Pat make a lovely royal couple?

He: The last dance? So soon?

She: Yes, but this prom will be long-remembered. It was fabulous, wasn't it?

He: Sure was!

The King and Queen, Pat Boland and Elizabeth Alexander express sheer delight after being crowned by Stu Brown, junior class president

Aren't those the senior and senior class officers dancing with their dates?

Every month the people in Porterland anxiously anticipate the distribution of their newspaper, the Times.

The paper presents the news concerning the scholastic, social, and athletic events of our school and also provides much entertainment in its columns. However, people seldom realize the work which is necessary for such a publication.

Approximately 75 staff members contributed to the success of this year's Times. In addition to producing an excellent paper, the staff was also responsible for the columns which appeared in the Spectator and Lockport Herald.

Only one-fourth of the money necessary to print the Times was derived from subscribers; the rest was provided by generous advertisers. A plan was inaugurated this year by which subscribers were eligible for gifts given by local merchants. This served to stimulate interest in the paper and thus increase its funds.

The students find that the Times is an informative and enjoyable publication, and they are truly proud of this representation of the journalistic interests at Lockport High.

The Word

The LOCK book's success is due chiefly to the leadership and heart which is always rendered by the LOCK editors. Pat Tresser, co-editor-in-chief, Carolyn Yates, assistant editor, Pat Korman, assistant editor, and June Anderson, co-editor-in-chief.

The news is out! For the past nine months, LTHS students have been expecting the publication of the 1959 LOCK. Just as in the production of any good play, there has gone a great deal of effort on the part of some fifty students, who comprise the LOCK editorial staff. These students, many of whom you have probably seen arranging pictures or running errands, have put in a great deal of time during and after school and often on Saturdays.

Of course, no yearbook would be complete without the presence of a business staff. These students, nearly seventy-five of them have appeared in homerooms selling LOCK subscriptions and as workers at the weekly LOCK sponsored dances. The business staff also conducted the election of our yearbook sweetheart, a new addition to the LOCK.

To all these people both the editorial and business staffs and their sponsor Mr. Sampson, make the credit and appreciation for the 1952 LOCK.

Jim Brehan and Carole Rediehs, with Mr. Sampson's guidance, capably led the business staff.

Behind the scenes of the LTHS activities stands the Student Council — the student government and activity leader of the school. Along with the co-presidents, the council is run by its board, the representatives from the forty-four homerooms, and the seventeen heads of the various organizations and classes.

Many functions were carried on throughout the year. Due to the council, our used books were successfully sold. More than 1500 Christmas cards were distributed to students by the Student Council Christmas card service. A special committee was formed to be in charge of pep assemblies. The council members also carried on the function of the lost and found department.

Future "ladies-in-white" is a term which applies to the members of the Future Nurses' Club. In keeping with their ideal "giving a helping hand" this well co-ordinated organization gave assistance in the health room and kept records for the freshman physicals and the staff tuberculosis examinations.

To commence their fall activities, the future nurses held their annual picnic. At the candle-lighting ceremony, the most impressive event of the year, the freshmen were formally inducted into the organization. During the course of the year the Lockport Woman's Club presented the seniors with their Future Nurses pins.

In order to obtain sufficient funds for the preceding activities, the future nurses worked checking coats and admitting spectators at the pass gate during many of our home ball games.

Under the capable leadership of the sponsors, Miss Margaret Taylor, faculty advisor, Miss Rosemary Blechschmidt, R.N.; Miss Nancy Grady, R.N., and Mrs. Jack Roberts, this club has attained its goal and deserves the spotlight for a job well done.

Miss Taylor, sponsor; Audrey Nordstrom, vice-president; Barb Saxa, treasurer; Bea Heggerty, corresponding secretary; June Anderson, president; and Virginia Carlson, secretary; demonstrate their new-found knowledge of the thermometer.

77A and 77A

The Edward F. Worst Club, Future Teachers of America, is designed to extend opportunities for a more detailed account of teaching to young people who are interested in the profession.

Guest speakers, panel discussions, educational movies, a picnic, the annual Mother and Daughter Tea, and a few other activities highlight this year's combination educational-pleasure program.

In order to become better acquainted with fundamental education, juniors and seniors visited grade schools to observe and teach. This "on the spot" observation gave them a first-hand opportunity to decide the grade level they prefer to teach.

The background which these young people received while participating in the preceding activities will be invaluable in preparing them for their careers as Future Teachers of America.

Future Farmers of America gives its opportunity for boys to gain a better understanding of the agricultural field. This year's activities include a poultry and grain show, a power drive, a car wash, and a trip sponsored by the members to the Minnesota Livestock Exposition.

These are the main part of the program activities in which the FFA participated during its first year under the guidance of its advisor.

The Chess Club sponsors are caught browsing through How to be a Winner at Chess.

New at LTHS this year is the Chess Club under the direction of Mr. Beseman and Mr. Hess.

The Chess Club consists of twenty-seven members who compete in their respective tournaments. The club meets every other week in the school library. There are no officers. The club was organized this year to have fun and to express their mental abilities by proper methods of concentration.

Cinememen

Many times stage productions are recorded on film. Behind the operations of the LTHS movie and slide projectors are the members of the Projectionists' Club. The club also has charge of the PA system for assemblies and the lighting for the new auditorium.

Mr. Jorgenson is the club's sponsor. There are approximately twenty-six members who maintain room 207 as their headquarters. There are two members stationed there each period of the day to assist if needed.

On The Musical Scale . . .

The choral department under the direction of Mr. Robert Howe, has really grown in the past school year.

A Freshman Boys' Glee Club, which sang at various student gatherings, was formed. They did an especially good job in our annual Christmas program. Madrigals is the select group from the A Cappella Choir. Being such a versatile group they were able to sing light popular music or present classical music in a very professional manner to churches, club organizations and our student body.

The A Cappella Choir spent their entire eighth period practicing for appearances or just singing for their own pleasure. This practice was rewarded by wonderful performances in the Veterans' Day Program, Christmas Concert and the annual Spring Concert.

Eagerness and sweet voices make the Freshman-Sophomore Girls' Chorus a pleasure to listen to. A specialized group of various girls sang last winter on the Jamboree radio station WJOL.

The main purpose of each of these groups is the same — bring the pleasure of music to others.

Let's Have a Cheer

"Fight team, fight! Fight team, fight!" Pep was the cheerleaders by-word throughout the sports season at Lockport High. With a smile on their faces and victory on their minds, they promoted school spirit and led our teams on to victory.

Some of their ideas for peppy cheers and good sportsmanship came from attending the cheerleaders camp at Illinois State Normal University during the summer.

Now it is our turn to give them a cheer, "Yea cheerleaders."

Sandy and Debbie, squad captains, organize the cheers and provide leadership for the cheerleaders.

This enthusiastic group cheers for the basketball team at the Catholic High game. The sign, "Beat the Hill out of the Hill man," was made by Pep Club members.

School Spirit Stressed

The Pep Club includes students who are full of pep and have lots of school spirit. These enthusiastic students attend all the home games and sponsor a bus to away games.

Did you see the clever posters announcing games? Did you buy a Porter pin or a program? The people you saw selling these articles were, of course, Pep Club members.

A pat on the back to the Pep Club for a job well done!

Looking over the finished product together with the program are the Pep Club officers: Susan Adams, president; Karlee Murray, treasurer; and John Stutz, secretary.

Representing All Sports . . .

To unite all the varsity letter winners is one of the purposes of the Letterman's Club. It was established about two years ago under the auspices of Mr. Kappmeyer. All the coaches acted as sponsors, Mr. Beseman being head sponsor.

The winning of the "L" is only one of the requirements for membership. A candidate for election must be passing in all academic subjects and receive an unanimous vote by the other members.

Acting as officers for this year were Jerry Pius, president, Steve Partak, vice-president; Larry Schrock, secretary; and Chuck Stanley, treasurer.

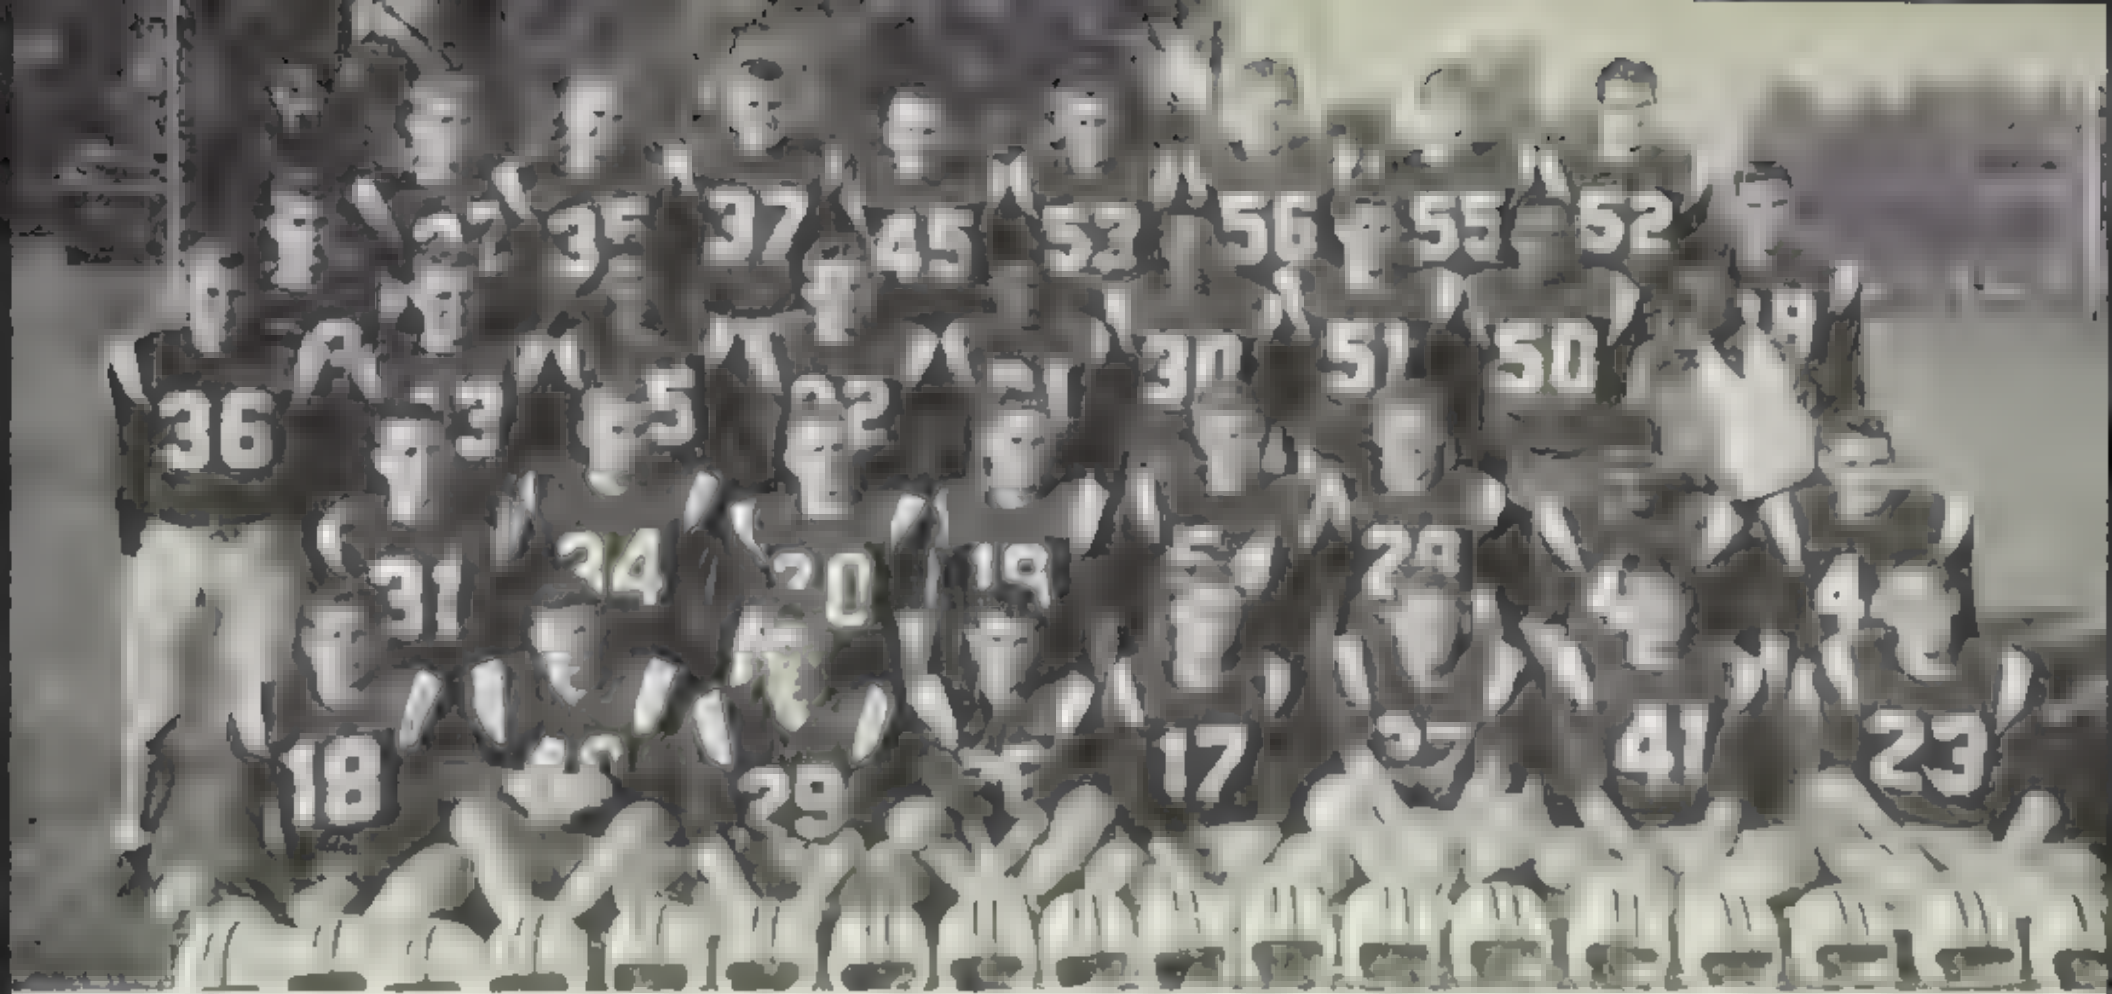

Larry, Jerry, Steve, and Chuck agree after reading the club's achievement, that membership in the "L" Club will soon be sought by all sportsmen.

Jim Lund anchors the medley relay team in a victory over Argo.

The 1958-59 varsity swimmers under Coach Chuck Beseman posted an even 4-4 won-lost record in dual meet competition. In spite of a seemingly mediocre season, the tankmen smashed 9 of 13 school records this year.

The Porter webfeet earned a 4-2 record against tough South Suburban League opposition; emerging victorious over Argo twice, Thornton Fractional once, and Leyden once, while falling to conference champions Thornton of Harvey and to Bloom of Chicago Heights.

In the SSL conference meet, Andy Djerf, a standout all season, placed third in the individual medley and fourth in the 200 yard free style. Tom Johnson and Jim Lund placed fifth in the 50 and the 100 yard free style respectively, while the free style relay team of Tom Johnson, Ed Rossetto, Jim Lund and Mike Gleason earned a third.

Three sophomores, Lance Sindt, Gary French and Howard Heeg, earned enough points for varsity letters. These underclassmen all placed high in the sophomore conference meet and are expected to form the backbone for next year's varsity squad.

Opening their season with a draw a difficult year for the matmen was started. The efforts put into the matches by the matmen added the needed vigor. Overcoming the handicap of losing excellent wrestlers they ended the year with a 2-11-1 win-loss-draw record. In spite of defeats 6th in the Conference, 5th in the District and 11th in the Sectiona were achieved in the tournament meets.

Responsible for the 6th place in the Conference matches were Vernon Voss 165 lb. George Brunner 154 lb. who both acquired 4th in the matches, and Bill R. Menick 95 lb. and Stuart Brown 120 lb. who both received 3rd.

Stuart Brown a 12-0-1 defendant placed a bright 1st in the District Tournament and 3rd in the Conference and Sectiona Tournaments. The 120 lb. matman received great honors for the work he did.

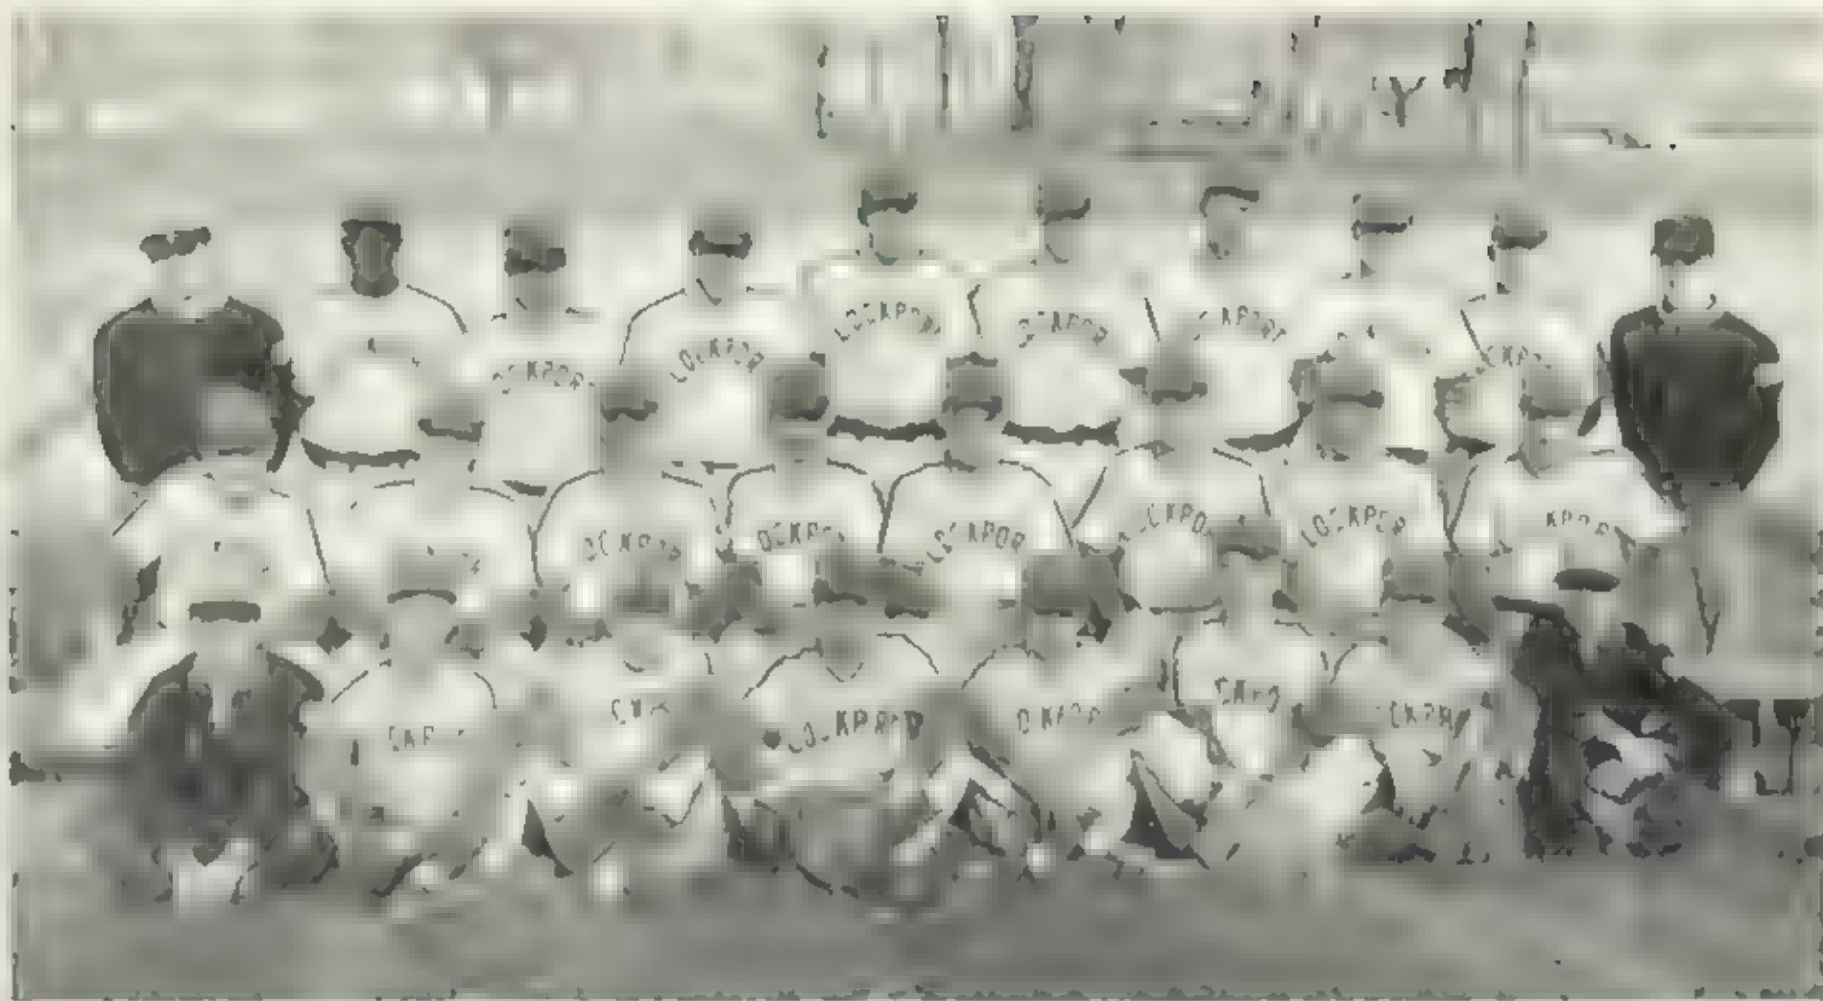

Teaching the rudiments of the sport is Mr. Dieward who has hopes that next year's team will be another good team.

Porters Capture

"This is the best varsity baseball team that Lockport has had in the last several years," said Coach B. [unclear] of his 1959 Porter team which posted a 10-7 won-lost record. This record includes cancellation forfeits over Naperville, Bloom and Joliet Township.

After a slow start, the team displayed exceptionally good defense in winning five of the last seven contests. Our boys could do no wrong while capturing the district crown with a 9-2 decision over Lemont, but they fell apart in their 6-2 loss to Oswego in sectional play.

Pitcher, first-baseman Jim Long heads the list of 10 returning lettermen for next year's squad. Long led the team in hitting with a .356 average, and held a 2-2 record as a pitcher. In the latter department he was second only to Jerry Pius, a senior, who had a 3-1 record. Other returning veterans are Vic Sullins, Keith LeGrand, Jim Abrams, Jim Mance, Jack Alexander, Ed Edson, Jerry Cunico, Bruce Fulton, and Ron Baxa.

South Suburban League

The 1959 golf team coached by Ed Hill reached an all time high by being Lockport's only team to place first in a South Suburban League contest

Led by the two returning senior lettermen, Larry Schrock and Steve Partak, the linksmen went ahead to post a 13 and 6 record

To top off a very successful season, Larry Schrock, topping all previous records, received medalist honors in SSL competition and Steve Partak represented Lockport at the state golf tourney. Although Steve did not capture any of the top places, he represented our team very well and deserves to be congratulated along with the rest of the '59 golf team

L. T. H. S. Firsts

Since the enrollment at LTHS has steadily increased, the four period lunch hour was introduced

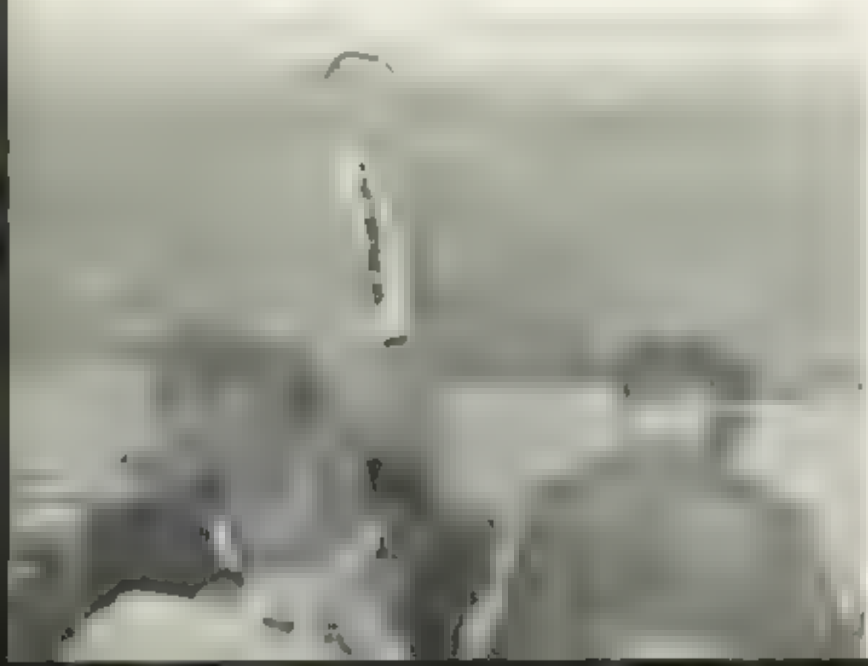

The Student Council started the campaign system for electing their co-presidents. This was a great improvement over the previous system

The Chess Club, a new organization which was organized solely for students who enjoy playing chess, was another LTHS first

German, the newest foreign language here at LTHS, was presented this year for the first time

A very impressive and important event at the beginning of the year was the first time the new auditorium was used

Meeting the Freshmen...

We were a little late to find out what the girls enjoyed eating, but their plates and clean plates show that it must have been good.

Mr. Jackson wasn't kidding when he said "the moon revolves around the earth," proves Jim Goeke and Jack Atkins.

He spends many hours studying to achieve success

EZRA EXTRA-CURRICULAR

He spends his time not only in studying but also in living up to the old saying "All work and no play make Jack a dull boy"

FRED FUTURE

He also spends much time in preparing himself for a career

GREG GRADUATE

He is filled with excitement as he realizes that graduation is in the near future

Our High School Days

According to tradition George Brunner, class president, led the class in the flag salute during the commencement exercises

This year's graduating class was the fiftieth class to graduate from LTHS. As with each class, graduation means something extra special. It is the beginning and the end — the beginning of each graduate's future and adulthood and the end of his high school days. So it was with the 1959 class — there were tears and there were shouts of joy full of mixed emotions.

The realization that high school days are ended is uppermost in Jerry Lundeen's mind as he receives his diploma

Susan Brown and Scott Rodeghiero were chosen by the class of 1959 to be the valedictorian and salutatorian

Become a Memory . . .

The commencement exercises were held in the new auditorium. The baccalaureate program on May 31st was the first look into the unknown for the seniors. The graduation ceremony on June 1st climaxed their careers at LTHS. The student addresses given by Amy Staples and Wayne Johnson made us realize our "Destinations Unlimited"

As we seniors received our diplomas, we became "has beens" of LTHS, and our high school days became a memory . . .

Mixed emotions are seen on the faces of these seniors after the baccalaureate program

Maryann Anderson, the valuable aids in the office and in the counseling room

Behind the scenes of a stage production are found the efficient stagehands. These helpers are the student and adult assistants. These stagehands play a vital part in the LTHS drama.

Our health room matron, Mrs. Nellie Fisher, and Mrs. Verna Habenicht, R.N. give medical care to Sandy Leinbach.

These library aids assist the students during lunching periods for both pleasure and educational purposes. They are Betty Czuhra, Sandra Nikiel, Donna Vincent, Diane Zanelli, Donna Chestnut,

Ruth Hatten, Audrey Hatten, Mary Ann + Kathleen + Carolyn Frampton, Pat Moroz, and Irene Fox.

Oh Lockport Alma Mater,

For you today we stand,

Sweetheart of the prairie,

Your heart is always true,

The portals of our learning,

In halls we love so well,

Maroon and white, we're for you,

Our loyalty we pledge.
